Customer review:
easy install, easy to use, tech service if you need it. Lots of money saved - made the cost of the unit back in 3 months from savings, well over $300 saved since then.

Amazing product! And customer support has been phenomenal. First class all the way.

"A Great Buy"

Rachio is a great watering system. We have saved hundreds of gallons of water using their program – all controlled from my iPhone. I love to link to the local weather station, which allows it to skip a watering day right before or after a rain day. Along with a great system, their support people are really helpful. Rachio was a great buy.

CONFIDENTIAL
The system makes everything more efficient, helping you save water without under-watering your lawn and landscaping in the process.

One of our favorite – and most high-tech – new controllers is Rachio’s iro, which turns your sprinkler system into a remote-control weather machine.

What makes a device like the Rachio really interesting is the ability to react to real-time weather data specific to one’s own geographic location to adapt its watering schedule.

The Best Smart Sprinkler Controller

After two months of testing, we think the new Rachio 3 Smart Sprinkler Controller is the best for coordinating your garden’s watering needs, whether you’re an irrigation novice or a certified master gardener.
