

Need $$ for Conservation and Planning?

Apply for a CWCB Water Conservation & Efficiency grant

Get FREE Professional Grant Writing Support from Western Resource Advocates & WaterDM

Do you need money to fund conservation and conservation planning? Colorado Water Conservation Board grants are available to water providers to help implement water conservation and efficiency programs. If you have a great program that you would like to see implemented, but need grant writing and implementation support to achieve your goal, please contact us at:

charlotte.roehm@westernresources.org or peter.mayer@waterdm.com

Right now we are providing free direct assistance to those providers who have a program idea ready to submit for funding through the CWCB grants program on February 1, 2020. Contact us now to receive direct assistance in the next few months, to help you select the right grant for your program and to help write your high-quality grant to ensure it meets the funding criteria.

Over the next year we will also be providing a suite of webinars and grant writing workshops to help you obtain the resources you need to implement an effective and sustainable conservation program. Additional information will be available on WRA's website.
